

Program Goals

1. To increase CMU students' global awareness through a short-term international education experience.
2. To give CMU students experiences in an urban and multi-cultural school setting while in London.
3. To enhance CMU students' understanding of U.S. classrooms and to gain an understanding of schools in the U.K. through observation and teaching.
4. To provide a meaningful connection between students' midtier classroom experience, teaching pedagogy, and the educational psychology content of EDU 493 by linking the two classes.

Faculty Leaders

Dr. Shane Cavanaugh teaches the EDU 493 portion of the program while Dr. Larry Corbett teaches the midtier practicum. Both Dr. Cavanaugh and Dr. Corbett will instruct students in Mt. Pleasant and London.

Combined Midtier Practicum and Learning and Evaluation in the Elementary Classroom Cohort Program in London, England – Summer 2008

Program Description

In this program students complete EDU 493, Learning and Evaluation in the Elementary Classroom, and EDU 361, Midtier Practicum, simultaneously during four weeks over the summer. During the first two weeks students begin EDU 493 on campus and start their midtier experience in Mt. Pleasant area K-8 schools.

The second half of the program is in London, England where students complete their EDU 493 course work while finishing the midtier practicum through observing and teaching in a London area elementary school. The program integrates the educational psychology content of EDU 493 with the classroom observation and field experience of the midtier practicum.

This unique program offers several advantages to elementary education students including an opportunity to enhance global perspectives; to experience an urban, multi-cultural school system, and to complete two required courses in one intense summer month.

The program also includes one group field trip to an important cultural and educational site. In addition, students will have ample free time to explore London and some may choose to take advantage of London's central location to travel on to other European destinations after the program finishes.

Program Dates

The program takes place over a period of four weeks, from mid May to mid June, with two additional orientation days held after the last day of classes of the spring semester.

Location

The program is set in the London borough of Enfield, located 12 miles from Central London or approximately 25 minutes via train. Enfield is London's most northern borough and also one of the largest with an incredibly diverse population that includes 87 different ethnic groups. Numerous restaurants and stores are located in the heart of Enfield and a train takes you easily to and from Central London and all it has to offer.

Accommodations

During their time in London, students stay in pairs with an English family in Enfield. This home stay includes all meals and provides students with a unique cultural opportunity. The price of room and board is included in the overall program cost.

Eligibility

To participate in this program, students must be admitted to the Teacher Education Program by the Fall 2007 deadline. For admittance criteria, please see the Center for Student Services' website (www.ehs.cmich.edu/css/) under "Admission Criteria and Getting Started." You may also contact the Center for Student Services by phone at 989-774-3309.
